Foreword

HD

● To that vast monument of man's increasing skill and power and upon which the future progress of Spokane and the Inland Empire will greatly depend—The Grand Coulee Dam—the staff of the 1938 Treasure Chest dedicates this book. Justly named the “Eighth Wonder of the World,” the Dam stands as an excellent example of the results of modern education.

As the world moves forward, education will continue to be the power behind the scenes of construction work, medical and scientific research, and the many other achievements of mankind.

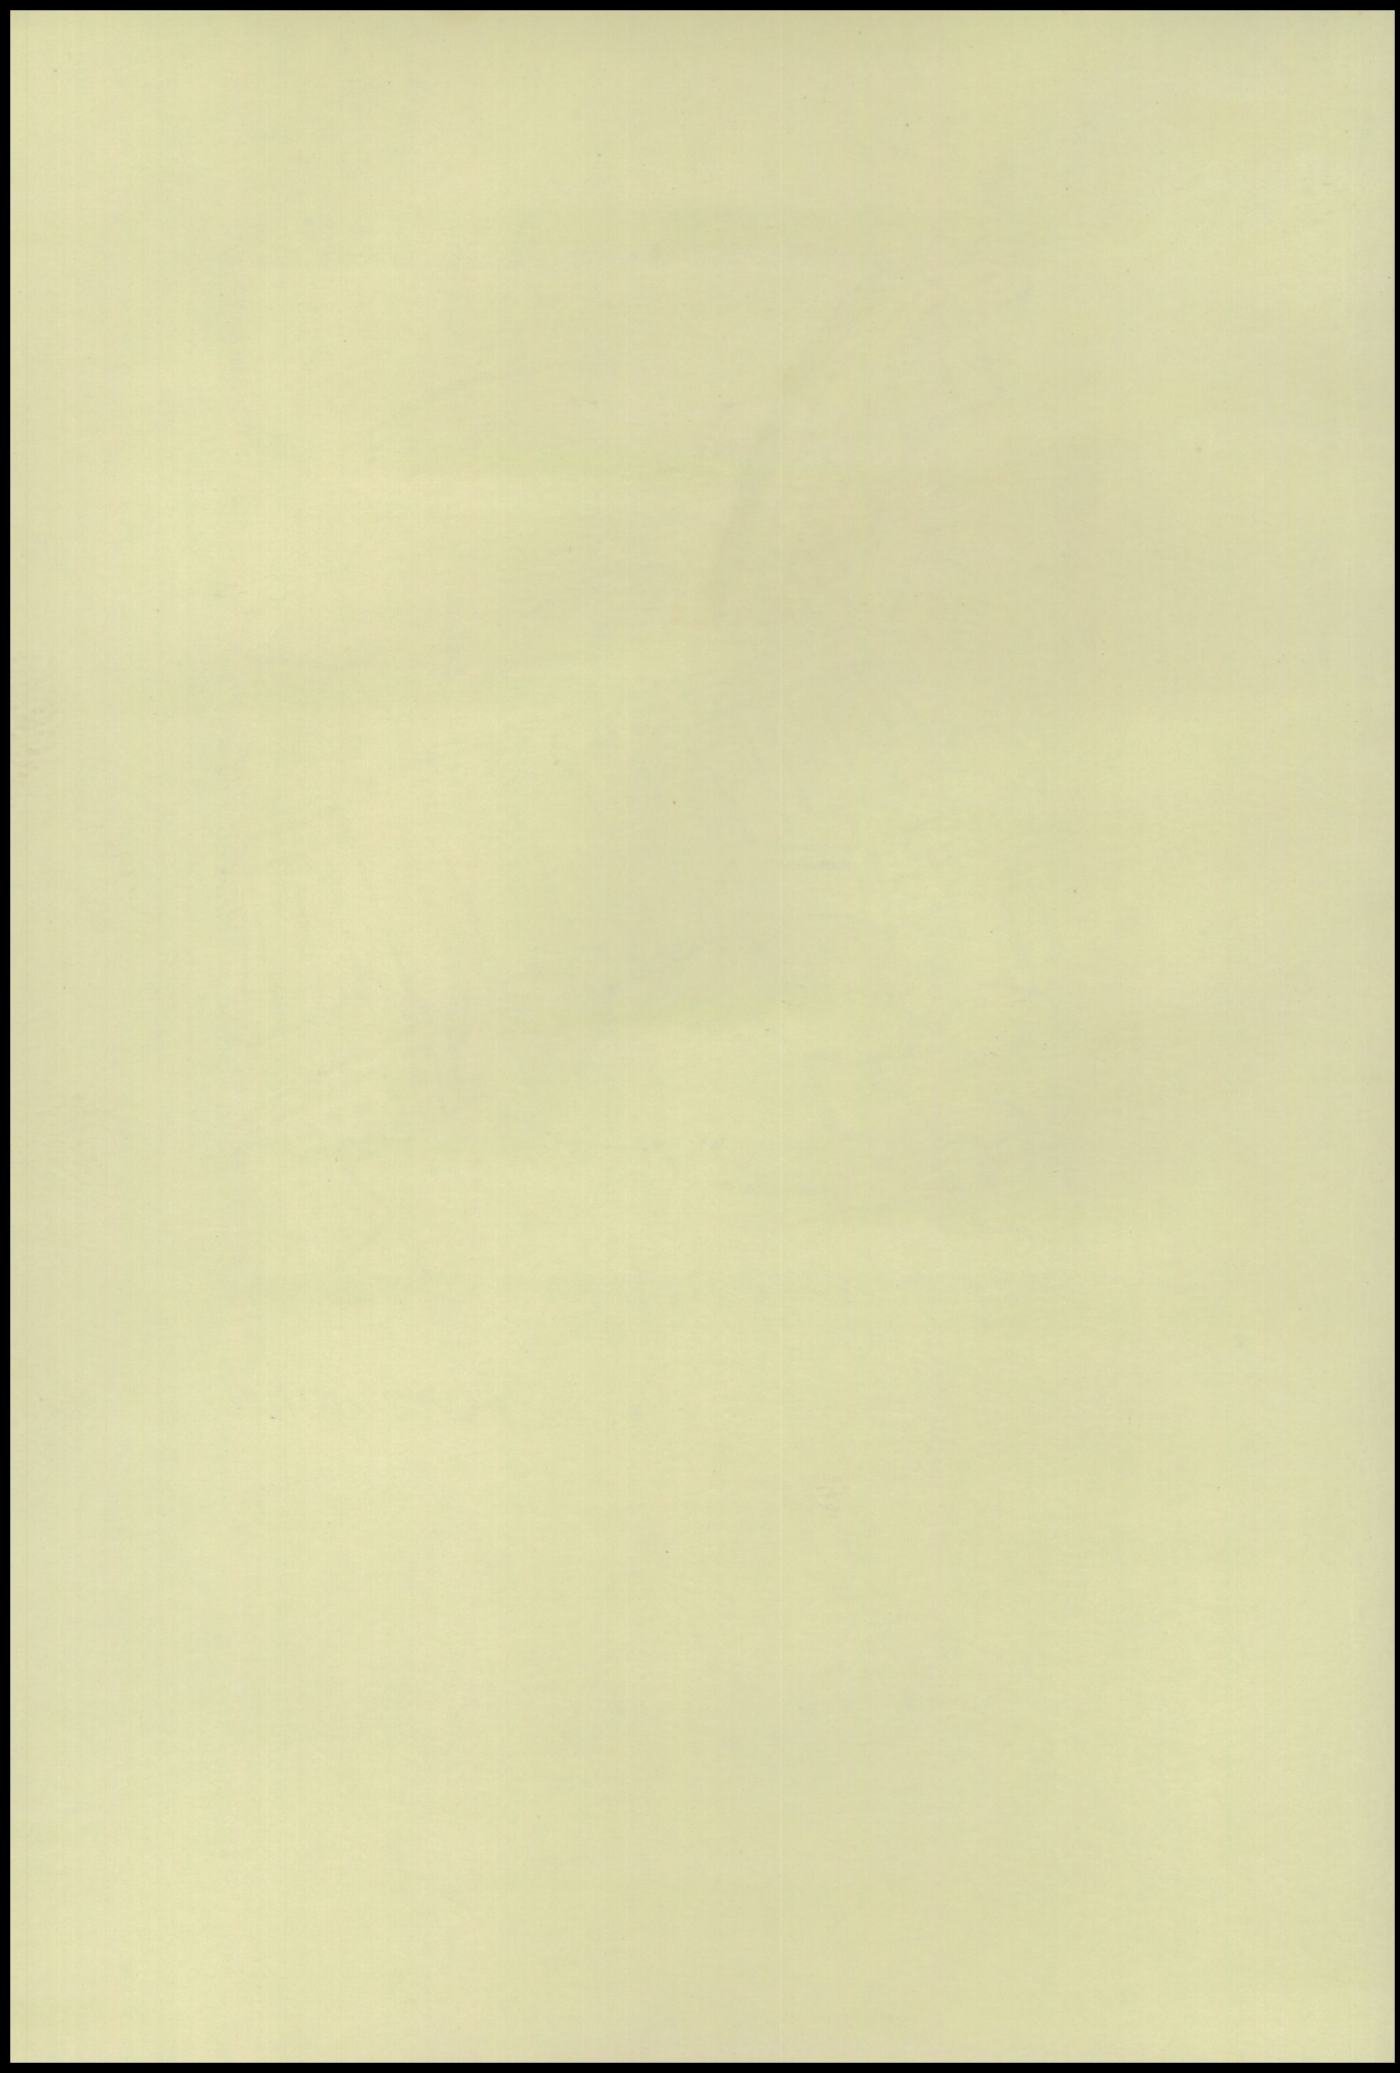

With our vision concentrated on the future and its opportunities for the scholars of today, we offer this book as a tribute to the ever forward march of education.

January Class History

● Destined to become one of the most outstanding classes in the history of John R. Rogers, the class entering in January, 1934 elected Don Amsbury as their first president; Joe Beauneaux, vice president; Howard Clukey, secretary-treasurer; and Betty Cowan, Student Council representative.

Adeline Hallstein was the 9A prexy; Jack Jones, vice-president; June Carlson, secretary-treasurer; Howard Clukey, Student Council; and Wilbur Thorson, yell leader.

President of the 10B class was Alma Ramey; vice-president, Glenn Carter; secretary-treasurer, Gail Hodgson; Student Council, Eleanor Jinnett; yell leader, Arthur Mackey.

Sophomore A officers were Dorothy Larson, president; Don Johnson, vice-president; Alice Hamaker, secretary-treasurer; Ray Patterson, Student Council; Wilbur Thorson, yell leader.

June Carlson became president of the 11B class, Gloria Lyberger, vice-president; Fannie Farro, secretary-treasurer; Don Johnson, yell leader, Frank Akins, Student Council.

Leaders of the Senior A class were Glenn Carter, president; Lewis Freeman, vice-president; Edythe Colony, secretary-treasurer; and Bob Treffry was editor of the Record.

January Commencement

● Paying one last tribute to their Alma Mater, the January graduating class presented the play, "Why John R. Rogers?" January 27. The character of John Rankin Rogers was played by Glenden Hobbs. Forever in the minds of the students of Rogers will remain the memory of the man who did so much for the lesser privileged children of Washington.

The scene "The Little Red School House" was typical of what occurred in the schools of Rogers' time. Enacted in true political style was the legislative scene during which the famous "Bare-foot Boy" bill was passed.

Under the supervision of Ray G. Hubbard, the play was written and produced by the special English class.

Dr. Frederick Fischer of the school board presented the diplomas.

June Class History

● Numbering 192, the largest freshman class in the history of John Rogers high school entered in September, 1934, to participate in activities that helped place Rogers "in the golden sunset of the westland."

On Thursday, June 9, 1938, high school days for 177 students will end, and the doors of life will be thrown open with opportunities stretched far and wide. Individuals have won honors in the fields of sports, dramatics, art, scholarship, music, and debate. Marion Ortner achieved the coveted position of Valedictorian, and Marie Crumbley held the title of Salutatorian.

Jerry McGuire guides the destinies of the June '38 class during their last semester. Mary Brooks is vice-president, and Ila Hetherington, secretary-treasurer.

June Commencement

● "Quo Vadis," the June commencement pageant presented June 9, demonstrates the influence that wisdom and vision have on the present generation. Harriette Collin portrayed Vision, while Charles Coffey took the role of Wisdom.

In the reunion that takes place during the second act, a survey is made of the many professions entered. The predictions made by Vision on the graduation night are tested.

Taking part in the pageant were Thomas Anderson, Sherman Blake, Clara Burniece, Lena Cass, Roana Clark, Charles Coffey, Harriette Collin, Marie Crumbley, Jerry Ericson, Veneta Huneywell, Dick Johnson, Jack Leavitt, Delvina Knipfel, Grace McGhee, Jerry McGuire, Bill McHarness, Carl Nelson, Helen Mae Olson, Marion Ortner, Mavis Owen, Alma Peterson, Mildred Rowe, Ray Shiosaki, June Smith, Ralph Stevens and Margaret Taylor.

● Question: Resolved, that the several states shall adopt a uni-cameral system of legislation.

The debate team entered into both the city and the northwestern section of Washington series, winning first place in the former and second place in the latter. In the city series the Harvard cup was again in Rogers' possession.

The debaters did not have the opportunity to compete with Eastern teams due to the fact that St. John defeated our negative team. The squad was coached by Vice-principal E. R. Jinnett, who completed his eleventh year as Rogers' debate head.

● Having several outstanding players return, the Rogers nine enjoyed an exceptionally fine season. Season practice began early in March. Many pre-season games were also played by the Pirate nine.

Boys' Tennis

● There never has been a time when any sixteen boys were so evenly matched as was the case this spring. The quality of tennis played was of high standard.

First Row: Saltz, Bevan, Peters, Oas, Johnson. Second Row: Hunn, Moffatt, Mr. Saltz (coach), Tang, Williamson.

Hockey

● The members of the 1938 Hockey squad showed plenty of Rogers "fight-spirit" although they did not complete a very successful season. With the nucleus of the squad returning, Rogers expects an excellent team next year.

Rifle Team

● In the second year of its organization, the rifle team entered both the fall and spring National Rifle association matches in which they ended twenty-third out of 185 national teams. They also shot against Lewis and Clark, Gonzaga, Veterans of Foreign Wars junior team, and West Valley in intercity matches.

First Row: Wakeley, McCall, Linden, Cozza. Second Row: Updike, Akins, Mr. Benjamin (coach).

Golf

● Golf matches are held at Indian Canyon and Downriver golf courses. Each high school team plays a double round robin. The team is coached by M. J. Benjamin.

First Row: Peterson, Eames, Hodge. Second Row: H. Olson, Burniece, Fairburn, Rice, E. Olson, Christianson, Murphy.

Spring Sports Queen

● Pearl Eames was the winner of the 1938 contest. She was boosted by the Footlights club with Don Carter as her manager. The two princesses, runners-up in the contest, were Lois Hodge and Lola Peterson.

As a result of the spring sports queen contest, the intake on tickets to baseball games and track meets this year was double compared to last year. The contest started off with a "bang" and afforded lots of competition throughout. This is the fourth year that there has been a contest to further the sale of season tickets for spring sports.

This year's contestants and their managers, in order of the results, were:

|                        |                   |                |

A Pencil You Can Sharpen With Your Thumb

Wouldn't the Graduate
Like One as a Gift?
Most Assuredly!

Eversharp's new Repeating Pencil is the handiest—and handsomest pencil we have ever seen!

Click! Click! Click!

Just press the top—and, click! a new point appears! When one stick of lead is used, just press the top—and, click! a new lead appears! And you need reload it only once or twice a year.

Everyone who writes can use this pencil, and if you do much writing—then you have discovered the handiest and handsomest repeating pencil to date.

The game was very one-sided. Just after half-time Gene Balch approached the referee, "I say, referee, can we have another ball?"

"What do you want another ball for?" the astonished referee asked.

"Well, those chaps want that one all to themselves."

Goble—"I bought a new hat for my sis, and I had to run all the way home with it."

Ericson—"What for?"

Goble—"I was afraid the style would change before I got home."

"The human brain is truly a wonderful thing. It starts working the minute you wake up and doesn't stop until you get to class," quotes Bruce McKenzie, sage of the second floor.

Poem

I know my face ain't no star
I know how ugly I are
But my face—I don't mind it
'Cause I'm behind it
It's the folks in front gets the jar.

All the pupils were ready to begin with the written test.

"Where's your pencil, Walt?" asked the teacher.

Lindgren—"I ain't got one, teacher."

Teacher—"How many times have I told you not to say that? Listen: I haven't one, you haven't one, we haven't one, they haven't—"

Lindgren—"Well, where are all the pencils?"

They're hidden, sitting in the swing in the moonlight, alone. No word broke the stillness for half an hour until—

"Suppose you had the money," asked Helen Mae Olson. What would you do?"

Jack Leavitt threw out his chest in all the glory of his young manhood, "I'd travel!" says he.

He felt her warm hand slide into his, when he looked up she had gone. In his hand was a nickel.

"If there are any dumbbells in the room, please stand up," said the exasperated Mr. Byrne.

A long pause and then a small, lone freshman stood up.

Mr. Byrne—"What? Do you consider yourself a dumbbell?"

Bob Materne—"Well, not exactly that, sir, but I hate to see you standing all alone."

Junior Blum—"I've had my nose broken three times in the same place."

John Osso—"You really ought to keep your nose out of that place."

And girls, no matter how easy you are on the eyes, most boys prefer you in the dark.

Lots of jokes need reprinting for the sake of the coming generation. Here's one:

A freshman does not know, and knows that he does not know.

A sophomore does not know, but does not know that he does not know.

A junior knows, but does not know that he knows.

A senior knows, knows that he knows, and wants everyone else to know that he knows.

Under the spreading
Telephone post,
There was no shade
Boy! Did I roast!

Says Ted Robinson:

A girl may love you from the bottom of her heart, but she has plenty of room for other fellows at the top.

Miss Budwin—Correct this sentence: "Girls is naturally better looking than boys."

Walt Lindgren—"Girls is artificially better looking than boys."

I seem to get an awful pain
Everytime I see it rain
And when the snow begins to fall
I feel like I would like to bawl.
When the sun beams bright and gay
I feel a little more like play
But when the moon begins to shine—
Yea man!!
